MRS. EMELENE M. COLE
COOS BAY, OREGON

Come with us for a little visit,
DOWN THE DAFFODIL PATH

ODE TO OREGON

It is not raining rain to me,
It's raining Daffodils;
In every dimpled drop I see
My flowers on yonder hills.

GREETINGS—to each of you, especially loyal old friends, the new friends we've made and to the ones we hope to call good friends. Our progress has been slow, with many obstacles to overcome, up to date, the growing of daffodil bulbs has been mainly a labor of love. We have again grown many new varieties, most of them we liked and have catalogued and now submit them to you for your approval.

The hybridizers do not rest on their laurels, for they are constantly bringing forth new forms and colors to intrigue us, such, as the Mrs. Backhouse seedlings, an endless array of shades from pale salmon to deep pure pinks and all shades in between. Also a wonderful lot of new lemon trumpets and large cupped seedlings to tempt us.

SIMPLE CULTURAL DIRECTIONS FOR GROWING FINE DAFFODILS

First of all, order good bulbs, early, and in most cases they should be planted as soon as received, for the bulbs are only dormant for about six weeks. Daffodils are among the easiest of all flowers to grow and with almost no up-keep, but they do have some requirements, such as spading your soil deeply, work in bonemeal, with some potash added, or in some cases, if the soil is heavy, spade in compost or old, old barnyard fertilizer. The greatest need is water and plenty of it during their growing period, all during the winter and spring the beds should be soaked regularly if rain has not been plentiful. Bulbs such as the large trumpets should be planted from 5 to 6 inches from the top of the soil, smaller bulbs less deep in proportion. These may be left in the same location from four to six years, but they should be top-dressed regularly once and twice is best, with fertilizer. Foliage should not be pulled up until it begins to die down, then pull it and rake over the bed well in order to fill the holes left by the stems. We like to plant daffodils in clumps among peonies, back of German iris, among the roses and in front of shrubbery. In fact, PLANT DAFFODILS ANYWHERE, just so you plant them.

TERMS: Please send your order early, as we start planting September 1st. No orders taken or shipped after October 25th. We guarantee all bulbs to be true to name and healthy; should any prove to be otherwise, please notify us immediately. We will send postpaid all orders for $3.00 and over, for less please include 35 cents postage. On many items such as the new and scarce varieties, we will have only three or four bulbs available for sale this year, so if one is wanted, it should be ordered immediately. To anyone allowing us to ship express collect we will send the equivalent, your choice of extra bulbs. 12 bulbs for the price of 10.

YOUR ORDER BY AUGUST 10TH WILL BRING A RICH REWARD IN EXTRA BULBS, OUR CHOICE, BUT YOU MAY DESIGNATE DESIRED VARIETIES

STRESA—2.3 (v. Deur.) 19". Our favorite for a very fine dependable white for every purpose -----	.30

The lovely and exquisite white trumpets hold a very definite place in our hearts, garden and show room. We love to arrange them in old blue bowls, and with the delicately colored pink varieties. Ada Finch should be planted late and in the shade to hold it for the show room. Almost all of the white section are show winners, most all are of different structure and coloring, we would not willingly part with any of these varieties, as some are early, medium and late blooming.

We believe firmly that more, bigger and better daffodil shows should be held. To any group, anywhere, in the United States who will stage their first daffodil show; we will be most happy to help in any way possible, with suggestions, sample schedules and pointers on publicity. We will also ship by air express a fine collection of our named varieties to be displayed along with the show. Further, we will give $10.00 worth of bulbs to be divided between the sweepstakes winner and runner-up. Could we do more? Ask us!

DON'TS FOR AMATEURS

1. Don't envy your neighbor's daffodils; choose the types you like best and delight in your own.
2. Don't miss a chance to visit an early spring or daffodil show so that you may see the newest daffodil creations.
3. Don't be discouraged if your blossoms are not as large the second year as the first; sometimes they have been heavily fertilized by the grower.
4. Don't dig a tiny hole with a trowel and expect to grow a show winner; dig deeply with a spading fork.
5. Don't be discouraged by the new daffodil classification; you will like it better as you learn to use it.
6. Don't let your daffodil bed dry out during the winter, water liberally if you have not had rains.

DON'T WAIT TO ORDER, PLEASE DO IT NOW

SILVER SALVER—5 (The Brodie) 20" A. M. You will love this for cutting and arranging, very popular with everyone -----	.60

ATTENTION HOME OWNERS—Have you considered DAFFODILS as a permanent garden investment? Where can you buy so much BEAUTY for so little money? What else can you grow with as little garden up-keep? What other early flower can you possibly grow that will enhance your flower border; provide gorgeous arrangements to beautify your home; flowers for your friends, for the sick room, and last but not least to bring honors to you in the show room? (If we were going to bally-hoo daffodils we would say something like the above).

DIVISION IV — DOUBLE NARCISSI

CAMELLIA—3 (van der Zalm) 21" One of the very best and most beautiful of the doubles. Deep primrose thruout, good substance on a stout stem, absolutely our favorite in the large doubles -----	.80

ATTENTION, GIRLS

Last year for the first time we offered our "quickie" for reducing, since it proved very popular, we are offering the same again, with this addition. Many ordered two collections, one for a friend—so we are offering as a premium for the second collection a bulb of one of our greatest favorites, Sheherazade." The collection is one bulb of each—Golden Harvest, Stresa, Queen of Bi-colors; Havelock; Lucienne, Mystic, Killigrew, Rosy Trumpet, La Riente, and Lady Kesteven for $2.50. Before they arrive select a well drained spot, spade deeply, dig in bone meal and potash. While waiting for bulbs work in the yard for at least one hour each day, bending over, reshaping edges, pulling cut grass and weeds, reset all perennial seedlings; plant pansies and woods phlox for edging in front of the daffodils. Results are guaranteed, both in beauty of form and the flower border.

DIVISION V—TRIANDRUS NARCISSI, of garden origin

AGNES HARVEY—(Spurrell) 16" A. M. Dainty, of drooping habit, one to three flowers to stem -----	.25
SILVER CHIMES—5 (Martin) 17" A. M. One of the very loveliest of the smallcupped hybrids. Pure white perianth, with delicate pale primrose cup. Most precious for arranging, also a show winner, sometimes selected as one of the favorites -----	.80
SHOT SILK—5 (de Graaff) 16". Most charming, 3 blossoms usually to a stem, perianth and cup creamy white -----	.35
THALIA—5 (van Waveren) 16". From one to three exquisite white blossoms per stem, two inches or more across, forming a beautiful cluster, a must for arranging -----	.25

DIVISION VI—CYCLAMINEUS NARCISSI, of garden origin

BERYL—2 (Williams) 8" A. M. A lovely little hybrid carrying drooping primrose colored flowers -----	.50
FEBRUARY GOLD—1 (de Graaff).16" A. M. Popular because it is one of the very earliest. Bright yellow with slightly reflexing perianth -----	.25

DIVISION VII — JONQUILLA NARCISSI

CHERIE—3 (Mitchell) 10". Distinct and lovely. perianth ivory white crown flushed pale shell pink -----	2.75
CHEYENNE—(Powell) 14". A white Jonquil hybrid 2", two to three flowers. Flared ivory cup, very lovely -----	.30

1950 DAFFODIL FLOWER SHOW BULLETIN

This department is not yet what we had hoped for it this year, for we have not been able to get folks to co-operate with us and send in their daffodil schedules and newspaper clippings of the shows. We are sure this represents only a small portion of shows held over the United States. Once again we beg all of you who know of daffodil shows going to be held to drop us a line. We want the name of sweepstake winners and runner-up; the outstanding daffodil in the show and if possible the names of varieties winning blue ribbons in the trumpet and large-cupped classes.

Again several large shows were cancelled due to sudden changes in the weather and severe storms. We are very happy to report on the following shows:

March 9th and 10th—The 10th annual daffodil show by the Shellman Garden club of Shellman, Georgia, was held in the high school gym. Mrs. J. M. Wooten was chairman of the show. The judges selected the lovely Triandrus "Silver Chimes" as the outstanding daffodil. This was exhibited by Mrs. D. K. Bynum.

March 15—The big Birmingham, Ala., and Shreveport, La., shows were cancelled.

March 24th—The Norman, Oklahoma, Council of Garden clubs held their fourth annual and highly successful daffodil show at the Episcopal Parish House. They used a very complete and up-to-date schedule, with the arrangement section very original, such as "arrangement under water"; "Eastern Inspiration"; "In a wall vase" and "Miniature in a lighted cigar box." Mrs. F. G. Tappan was sweepstakes winner, with Mrs. J. L. Rader winning in the arrangement section.

March 28th and 29th—"Springtime in Oklahoma" was the theme of the first annual daffodil show scheduled by the Glenwood Garden club of Enid, Oklahoma. Mrs. John Harlan, president, and Mrs. Vernon Slusher, flower show chairman. Their schedule was very good and complete using the new narcissus classification. This show was our "pet" for 1950 since Enid was home always until coming to Oregon, and this show was a very dear wish and dream come true. This young club staged a very beautiful and successful first show. Mrs. L. S. Bisel was sweepstakes winner with Mrs. J. Clifford Shirley runner-up. Mrs. Bisel exhibited outstanding arrangements which attracted much attention. DOWN THE DAFFODIL PATH flew a large collection of choice blooms to Enid to be exhibited at this show.

March 31st to April 2nd—The Puyallup Valley Daffodil Festival at Sumner, Wash., was staged by daffodil growers.

April 1st and 2nd—The Garden Club of Virginia presented its 16th annual daffodil show at the Alexandria Recreation Center. Chairman of this show was Mrs. Benj. S. Killmaster, using a very complete and easily understood schedule. Lovely white "Beersheba" held her own against all comers and tied with "Kansas" as the best blooms in the show.

April 9th—The Spring Flower Show was held by The Town & Country Garden Club at Lynchburg, Virginia, with Mrs. J. S. Hardy, jr., as chairman.

March 28th—The Inter-School Flower Society of Washington High School in Portland, Oregon, held the only daffodil show in that city. Grant Mitsch and the Men's Garden club of Portland assisted with this show.

April 14th—Topeka, Kansas, gardeners held their 14th annual daffodil show in Municipal Auditorium. Mrs. Sam Grossnickle was sweepstakes winner, with Mrs. E. F. Wilson as runner-up. Mrs. Harvey Stearns was chairman, staging a very successful show in spite of severe weather. Gen. McArthur and McMahon were the largest blooms in the show, with Beersheba and Roxane leading all the other white trumpets.

April 15th and 16th—The Spring Flower Show by the Men's Garden Club of Coos Bay, Oregon, was held in the lobby of the Tioga hotel. L. E. Peterson was chairman, and Mrs. E. A. Peterson was the successful sweepstakes winner with some very outstanding daffodils. Gen. McArthur was the winning yellow trumpet.

April 15th to 22nd—The Kansas City Garden clubs staged a series of very successful flower shows in the Municipal auditorium. Mrs. John Aldrich tied with Mrs. C. S. Hedges for sweepstakes honors. This was the first show of its kind for Kansas City, which proved to be most popular as viewed by several thousand people.

April 22nd and 23rd—The ninth annual Narcissus show was held by the Garden Club of Indiana in Brookside Community House using the theme "Accent on Spring." A well thought out schedule was most interesting, especially the arrangement section with such originals as "April Showers" (for a new baby), "Over the Tea Cups" (in a sugar bowl or cream pitcher) and "Family Traditions" (an arrangement in one of Grandma's antiques).

April 25th to 27th—The Pennsylvania Horticultural Society presented their annual Daffodil Display. They used the theme of "Aisle of the Seasons" for their entire show.

April 25th and 26th—The annual Narcissus Show was given by the Horticultural Society of New York at Essex House, with a higher public attendance than usual. The daffodil rated best in the show was a red and yellow called "Big Game" grown by J. L. Richardson of Ireland, and exhibited by Kenneth Smith of Staten Island. The best yellow trumpet was "Preamble."

April 28th and 29th—Spring Flower Show at Pittsburgh, Penna., with Mrs. Arthur G. Starkey as chairman of the daffodil section. Blue ribbon winner for yellow trumpet was "Louis Boumeister"; "President LeBrun" for bicolor trumpet, and "Imperator" in the white trumpet class.

May 1st and 2nd—The Massachusetts Horticultural Society held their annual show in Mechanics Hall, Boston, Mass. "Krakatoa," a huge large-cupped yellow and red blossom originated by Richardson in Ireland was exhibited by William McKee and was judged the best bloom in the show.
